

ANDREA MARVIN

I am Spanish-American and a student in the Dual BA Program between Sciences Po and Columbia University studying political humanities and anthropology.

Throughout my life I have been dedicated to issues surrounding the environment.

In high school, I formed a student organization for environmental awareness and action and I am now on the board of directors of Sciences Po's environmental organization.

I am happy to be working with TAF - The Animal Fund and am honored to be a Youth Ambassador to continue promoting environmental education and initiatives.
